

A still life photograph of a Thanksgiving dinner spread. In the center is a large roasted turkey on a white platter, surrounded by green pears and orange carrots. To the left is a round pie with a golden-brown crust. To the right are several bowls: one with cranberry sauce, one with stuffing, one with mashed potatoes, and one with a green salad. The background is decorated with pink roses and greenery. The word "American" is overlaid in white text in the center.
