

A vibrant collage of various African dishes. The image features a variety of food items including injera (flatbread), stews, salads, and breads, all presented in colorful, patterned bowls and plates. The dishes are arranged in a dense, overlapping manner, showcasing the rich diversity of African cuisine. The colors are warm and inviting, with a focus on reds, yellows, and greens. The overall composition is a celebration of the culinary heritage of the African continent.

African